based on what works!

WHAT?

The third Academy and Conference "Human Rights Go Local - What Works" is a multi-day online participatory forum that brings together local authorities and human rights actors to share expertise and experiences on mechanisms, instruments, and tools that help integrate human rights principles into public management. Participants work together to develop concrete guidelines for local governments on how to incorporate human rights into budgeting, programme development, and service delivery.

WHEN?

From 1 to 8 February 2023 over 3-4 hours each day, excluding Saturday and Sunday.

WHO?

Cities, city networks, international organisations, as well as intermediaries from think tanks, academia, civil society, the private sector, and national/regional organisations with experience in public management.
